

TRAINING

1st MAY

2017. HONG KONG

WHAT IS WELL?

The WORLD'S FIRST building standard focused exclusively on human health and wellness.

The WELL Building Standard sets performance requirements in SEVEN CONCEPTS relevant to occupant health in the built environment.

More Information about WELL, please visit: <https://www.wellcertified.com/>

WHAT IS WELL AP?

WELL AP standards for WELL Accredited Professional. It denotes expertise in the WELL Building Standard™ and a commitment to advancing human health and wellness in buildings and communities.

Four Steps to become a WELL AP:

1 STUDY

Understand WELL standard and prepare for the exam

2 Register

Register an account in International WELL Building Institute

3 Exam

Sit the exam and score 170 or above (like LEED AP exam)

4 Renew

Report the continuous education hours same as LEED AP

WHAT can this training help?

Through the one-day training and 200-quiz practice, you will be able to pass the WELL AP exam easily. This training can also be considered continuous education for LEED AP and LEED Green Associate.

Track record of this training

This training has been conducted in Shanghai since December 2016. Up to now ALL STUDENTS have passed the exam within 2 months after the face to face training with lowest score of 183.
